

ele:STAFF PICKS GREEN UP YOUR ACT >> TRY THIS AT HOME.

Kitchensink Wisdom.

Ironically, the products we've been using to wipe our countertops have left a lasting, fluorescent footprint in our landfills. But when a good friend graciously tossed me a (plastic-free, biodegradable) pack of Twist's Loofah Sponge #50, I was reminded that a green revolution could be an opportunity to redesign our stuff aesthetically as well as ethically. Best of all, Twist makes sure that 99.97% of their waste is reused in production, and their raw materials are sourced from renewable tree farms. To a global community that's been sweeping our trash under the rug for too long, excitement over doing the dishes is an unexpected, welcome step toward growing up a little.

>> VIA KATYA SLIVINSKAYA.

